

Gentlemen:

I'm writing to you as an XM subscriber. Please do not mess with a good thing. Granted since I acquired my satellite radio I do not listen to regular radio, nor do I watch regular television or cable, as I am a satisfied customer of satellite television.

The FCC has already tried, and lost, their media plan. Please don't try to "back door" in. It won't work.

As for XM Instant Traffic and Weather, I turn it on when I am in a traffic jam, however, they may not always cover the area I'm stuck in, at which point, I will turn the regular radio on to listen to local news. However, I find that the local channels are no different than XM Instant Traffic. The big difference is the waste of my time switching channels to get away from the annoying advertisements. Thank goodness for commercial free radio and television.

I urge you to reject NAB's petition 04-160. Please try put the public first instead to your personal interests for a change.

Thank you for your time,

Toni Kimball
